

To Members of the Pennsylvania Press:

With the petition period over and election day moving closer, the Barletta, Corman, McSwain, and White campaigns are looking forward to participating in debates to help the voters of the state make their decision in this critical election. Since this election is unique in the number of people on the ballot, and its importance to the future of the Commonwealth, we thought it'd be important to let the members of the media know that we have agreed to a set of criteria that must be met for all four of our campaigns to attend any debate. We hope this helps people put together a potential debate that will benefit the Republican voters who will choose the next gubernatorial nominee.

1. Moderators must be registered Republicans and live in PA.
2. Must not have spoken negatively about any of the candidates on stage or works for an organization that has maligned one of the candidates.
3. Have not endorsed or donated to one of the candidates on stage.
4. No questions with answers shorter than 30 seconds.

Sincerely,

Jeremy Sheftel

Ryan Reynolds

James Fitzpatrick

Bob Salera
